Foreword

Our Theme this year is the Prison. You might say there's not much to look forward to with a Theme like that. We feel that we have at least our parole to look forward to. An then what—who knows?

Some Yearbooks are Ships sailing out into the great unknown future with Skippers, and Mates, and Boatswains, and Pilots. But not us. Some Yearbooks are Comets blazing forth into space. But not us.

No, we're a Planet, but yet different than a regular Planet. At first we shine with the light issued us by the Guards and Wardens and finally at our parole we shine with our own light that we have hidden away until the long awaited day.

Some say a Prison is the treadmill to oblivion. A place from which no bit of hope shines forth. Well, prisons are places of confinement, of discipline, of rehabilitation, or preparation for citizenship. School is like that. It has prepared us to meet our life after parole with confidence. One thing a prisoner learns to do is live one day at a time, hopeful of the day when he is free again, but just marking off each day. We are learning to live each day and to train ourselves for service.

None of us expect to go forward with any blaze of glory because prisons aren't like that. We'll face each day as it comes and plan and work for a parole. The Future will be there when we get to it. The Parolees of 1955 go Forward!

Our "Alma Mater"

Oh, dear old Mars forever,
For her we'll stand together
No matter what befalls us . . .
We'll go where Mars will call us!
Oh, Mars, Oh Mars, our Alma Mater
For you, dear Mars, we give our all!

Sturdy and staunch we'll stand
Throughout the entire land;
We'll surely fight for fame
For Alma Mater's name!
Oh Mars, Oh Mars, our Alma Mater
For you, dear Mars, we give our all.

YEARBOOK STAFF

Row 1: D. Hoffman, B. Wheeler, M. Speer, C. Shearer, S. Shick, E. Worhctch, N. Augustine.

Row 2: S. Schafer, E. Datemasch, D. Campbell, D. Wix, J. O'Toole, M. Landstead, C. Riemen-schneider, P. Roman, J. Nolon, B. Powell.

The Planet Staff worked diligently all year under the supervision of C. P. Barrett to produce a unique yearbook.

Early in the term, assignments were given to the members of the staff. The whole project was divided into various departments which worked on different articles and conducted the business transactions.

Part of financing the publication was accomplished by soliciting advertisements. Several groups canvassed nearby districts for supporters. The Editors and Feature Writers were kept busy mounting the pages of pictures and securing articles concerning the activities of the different clubs. The Calendar Editors summarized the events of each week and chose the most interesting happenings for publication. Members of the staff who participated in sports were chosen as Sports Editors and wrote about the activities of the football and basketball teams. The writing of the Class Will and Class Prophecy took a lot of time and thought.

All the divisions worked diligently and much time was spent in attaining the goal of completion of the yearbook. We would like to thank all those who made this yearbook possible.

We, the Planet Staff of 1955, now present to you, the students of Mars High School, our annual yearbook.

Mr. Hudson, the Supervising Principal of Mars Boro Schools, attended Geneva College and received his Bachelor of Science Degree. He then attended the University of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Hudson and Carolyn Jarrett, we appreciate the help and consideration that you have shown the graduating class of 1955. Our last four years have been the most important in our lives and the ones we shall remember the longest.

Miss Hespenheide and Mr. Downie continued this year in their capacity as principals.

Miss Hespenheide received her degree at Grove City College where she majored in mathematics.

Mr. Downie received his degree at University of Arizona and Penn State University where he majored in agriculture.

We, the Seniors of 1955, wish to congratulate you both on your splendid job this year.

Junior Class

The Junior Class of 1954-1955 is comprised of 113 members in homerooms D, H, and F. The sponsors and homeroom teachers for the class are Mrs. Lintz, Mrs. McCloskey, and Mr. Girdwood.

Members of the class are active in all of the clubs and groups. A large percentage are also in the Band and the various choral groups.

The activity in which the largest amount of Juniors participated was school sports. This year Juniors won letters in boys' football and basketball and girls' basketball.

Under the direction of Mrs. Lintz, the class presented the annual Junior Play in the early fall. The play, Men Are Like Streetcars, turned out to be a surprising success for the class.

The major plans for this year are directed toward a trip to New York City at the end of the school year. On June 6, the members will board Pennsylvania Railroad trains and be off for a three-day vacation in the big city.

Junior Class Play

The title of the Junior Class Play presented this year was "Men Are Like Streetcars." It is a comedy in three acts, dramatized by Christopher Sergel and taken from the book written by Groome and Sarah Loremer. The play was presented in the high school auditorium on the nineteenth and twentieth of November.

Mix a typical teenage girl with a typical older sister and you will have the play in a "nutshell." Maudie, the typical teenager, is continually trying to get her older sister, Sylvia, "married off." In doing so, Maudie loses her own boyfriend, Davy, almost loses a contract for her father, turns her friends against herself and mixes everything up for Sylvia.

After a hard learned lesson, Maudie discovers that "no line is the best line" and with this as her guide she regains her boyfriend and her friends, gets the contract for her father, and Sylvia finally gets her man.

The hard work and cooperation of the cast, the directors, and the many committees made it possible to have a successful play.

Sophomore Class

The Sophomore Class had a class party on October 22 and on February 24. We also had a skate at Twin Willows. The class voted that each member bring in $.50 a month starting with December until school is out plus their $1.00 dues. This will cut out bake sales, etc. and save us work and confusion.

The Sophomore Class is divided into four different rooms. Room C, E, S.H. I, and S.H. II. All of the homerooms had their own homeroom officers. The sponsors for the rooms were Miss Renison, Mr. Mellett, Mrs. Roberts.

A number of our girls made Baton Twirling, Flag Swinging, and G.A.A.

The G. A. A. members for 1955 are: Mary Bender, Joanne Proie, Judy Hessler, June McDonald, Judy Crawford, Pat Stoup, Dorothy Mowery, Donna Spangenburg, Marion Schmidt, Sally Hackney. Baton Twirling: Marion Schmidt, Judy Kaufman. Flag Swinging: Donna Spangenburg, Carol Niethercoat, Nancy Hanna, Pat Boggs.

A black and white photograph of a large group of students, likely a yearbook committee or a class, posing in front of a wooden building. The students are arranged in several rows, with some sitting on the ground in the front and others standing behind them. They are dressed in mid-20th-century attire.

*Don't remember me,

On September 8, 1954, 204 scared freshmen milled around in the auditorium—soon to be our home room—looking desperately for familiar faces. We received, free a guided tour of our high school, and after that we were on our own—for better or for worse.

Home room, for all but the vocational agriculture students, was the auditorium—tastefully decorated with tables and chairs. We heard about the famous bell even before we knew who our teachers were. Seats ranged from the altitude of the "shelves" to the stage. The vocational agriculture students—all 13 of them, had a private room in the "Chicken Coop". Mr. Barrett, Mr. Holmok, and Mr. Garbart capably managed the auditorium and Mr. Meyer was in full command in the Ag room. Later in the year the class was split into two more home rooms—

K and the Home Economics Room—with Mr. Garbart and Miss Chernay as home room teachers. Even though we were split into home rooms, there was always A-1 cooperation between the officers and the class.

After October we emerged cleaner, fresher, and with more shine and sparkle by selling furniture polish just in time for fall housecleaning. Then in February we worked like the proverbial ant to make a "screaming" success of Them.

At our first party we all got acquainted by playing games, dancing, and, naturally, eating. The climax of our second party was a scavenger hunt for things like limburger cheese, false fingernails, and a filled diary.

May we have another three years together as happy as this one has been.

Eighth Grade

This year's eighth grade occupies rooms L, M, and N. Their activities have consisted of several very successful parties sponsored by their homeroom mothers and directed by Mrs. Miles, Miss McDanel, and Miss Standen.

Next year their class will be almost tripled in size and we wish them continued success in their class activities and achievements.

Seventh Grade

The seventh grade this year is divided between the grade school and the high school. Their activities have been limited because of this division.

Their teachers at the grade school are Mrs. Allender and Mrs. Fisk. Their homeroom teachers at the high school are Mrs. Wilkinson and Mr. Thompson.

Next year their classes will be combined and their activities increased.

Our school coaches are Mrs. Miles, Mr. Thompson, and Mr. Girdwood. Mrs. Miles is head of the girls varsity and J. V. Mr. Thompson is our Athletic Director and schedules all our basketball and football games. Mr. Girdwood is head football and basketball coach. Mr. Thompson assists.

Football

This year the Mars' Planets under the leadership of Coach Girdwood won two, tied two, and lost five. The team did well this year compared to past years.

The season opened with a win over Bessemer and was followed by a hard fought game with Union that ended with a three nothing (3-0) defeat.

The worst game of the season was with Freedom that ended in an overwhelming defeat for the Planets. Evans City was defeated and Zelienople tied to wind up the season.

The Varsity team got new uniforms this year to go with their new yellow helmets.

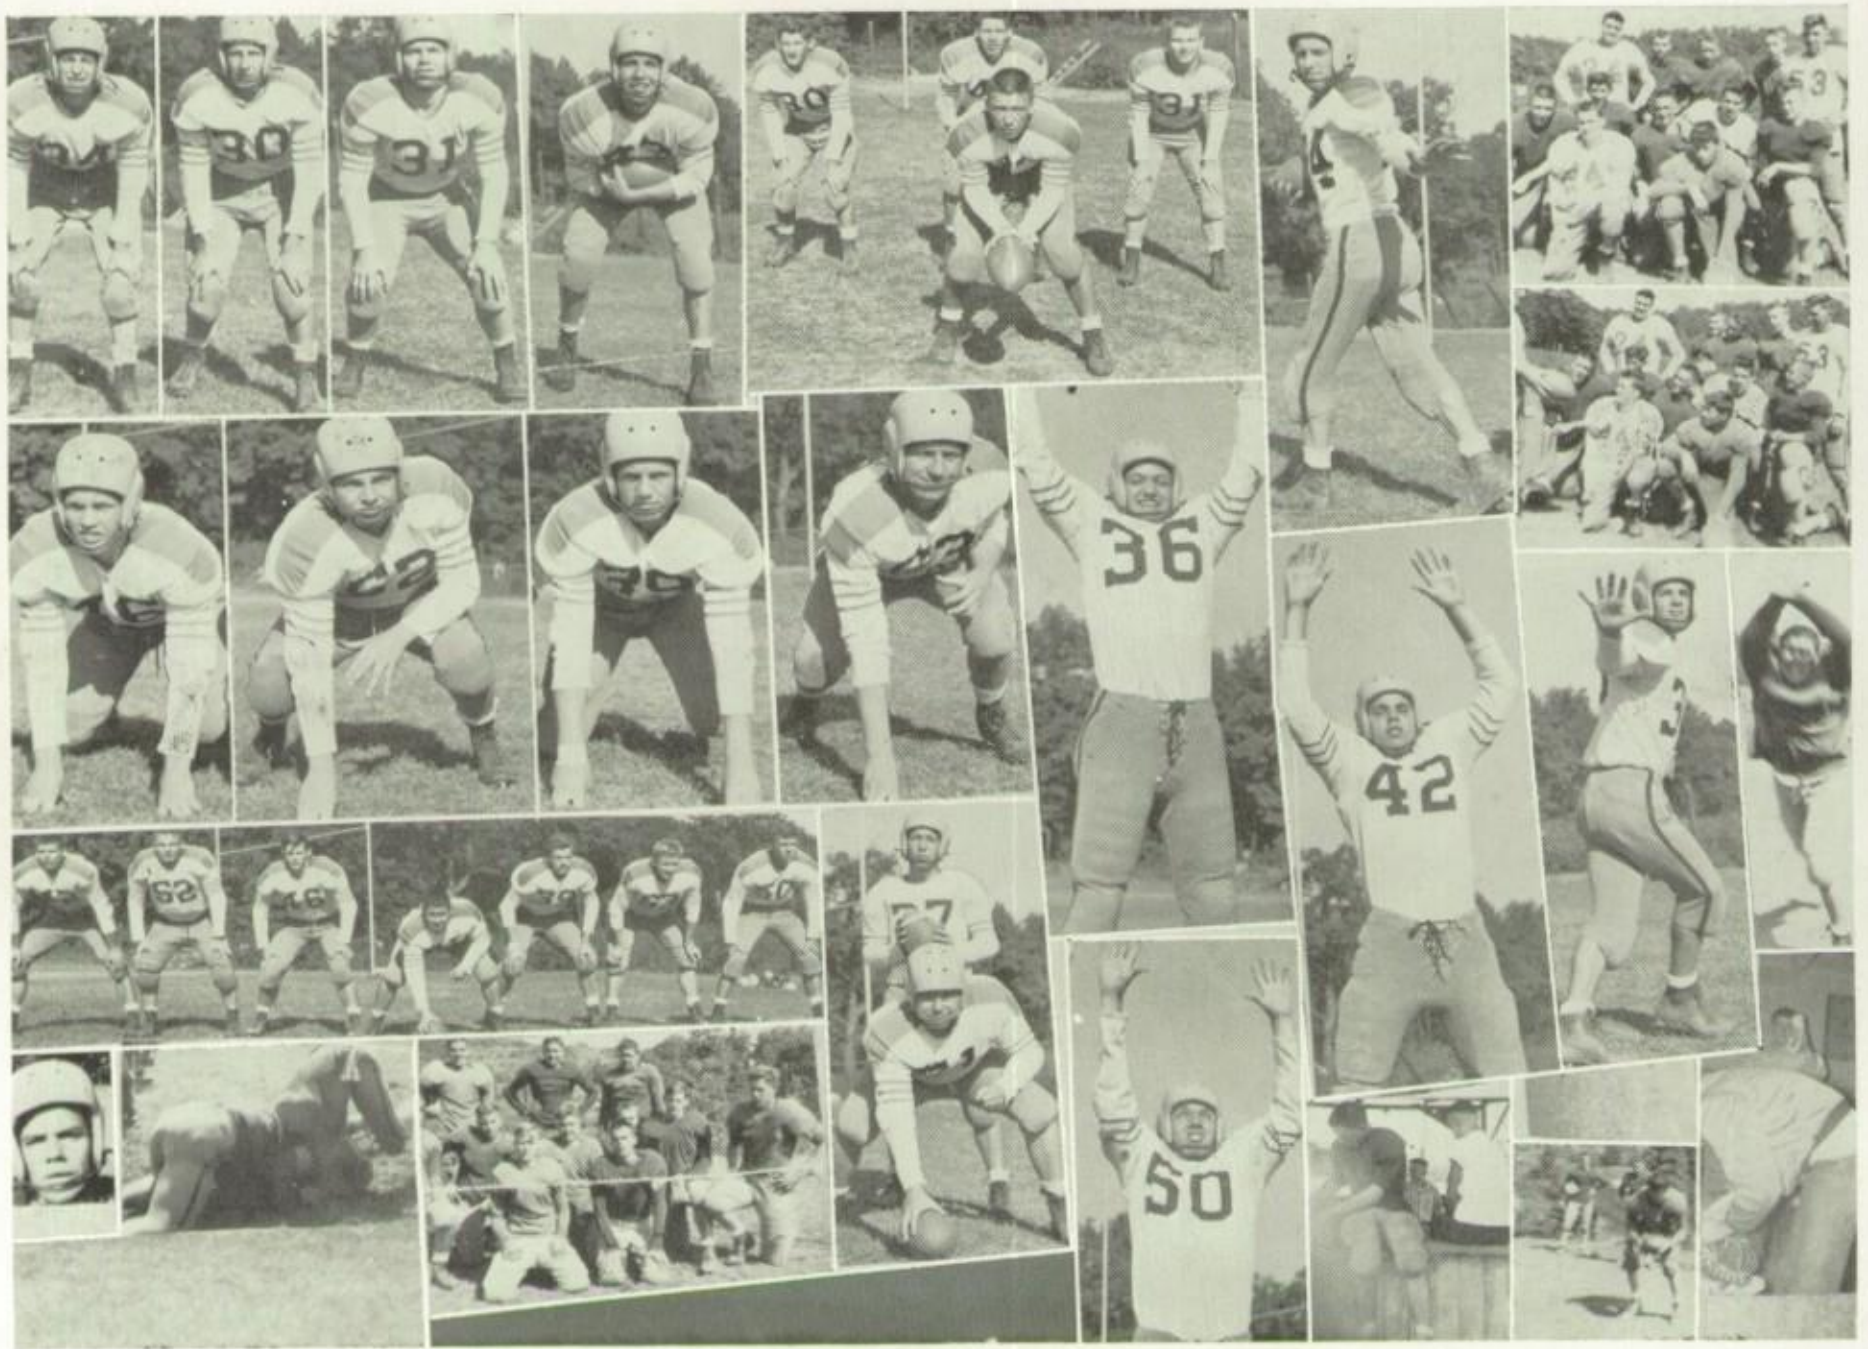

The Planets lose a number of Seniors this year—Dave Taylor, Paul Lewis, Wayne Mattern, Ron Neithercoat, Richard Papera, Ed. Datemasch, Jim O'Toole, Joe Rutkowski, Bob Penney, Chuck McCormick, and Bob Marsh.

Thanks for doing a swell job boys and good luck to the Planets for 1956.

This year the Mars' J. V. Planets under Coaches Girdwood and Thompson won three and lost three. Their good record shows that a winning team is coming up in several years.

Boys' Varsity Basketball

The 1955 edition of the Mars Planets was undoubtedly the best basketball team ever assembled in Mars. The team record was 14 wins and 12 losses. The Planets played 14 games in one of the best sections of basketball in Western Pennsylvania, Section 8. Ten of the 12 losses were by eleven points or less. Mars High also won the consolation trophy in the annual Tri-County Basketball Tournament.

The team was ably coached by Mr. Alymer Girdwood, who just finished his fourth year as head mentor. Mr. Girdwood was instrumental in building up this year's team as he has coached this year's Seniors since their Freshman days and had planned hopefully for this season.

The team will lose several top performers through graduation. Among these are Dave Taylor, who at 6' 2" was the tallest member of the squad. Dave led the team in rebounding and also helped out considerably in the scoring.

At forward Mars will lose 5' 11" Don Wix. Don set a new scoring record as a Junior and broke his own record with 486 points his Senior year with an 18.7 per game average. Don also holds the individual scoring record for one game, with 34 points. This performance came in the Tri-County Tournament and broke the record for one game in that tournament. Don was picked on the All-Tri-County team along with Dave Wiegand, a Junior, who made honorable mention.

Also graduating this year is forward, Jim McFarland. Jim did a fine job whenever called upon. At guard, Mars loses Bob Marsh, who was a good set shot, and Ed Datemasch, who, although he was the smallest man on the team, a lot was seen of him on the floor.

This year's team wishes to thank the coaches who spent a lot of their time to make this year a success. The graduating players want to wish the teams of future years a lot of success.

Boys' J. V. Basketball

The J. V. this year was coached by Mr. Thompson, who is the head of the Athletic Department.

The boys on this year's team were Jack Lees, Chuck Croskey, Bob Gumm, Bill Aiken, Jack Hardt, Joe Dietz, and Jim Garber. Sometimes when the going got rough we were fortunate to have Russ Spangenburg, Dan McQueen, and Lyn Walters to play for us. We hit some good teams this year and really enjoyed the season.

Chuck Croskey was our tallest man. He and John Davenport were our rebounders. Jack Lees, Tim Koah and Dick Fusca did most of the ball handling. The team this year was made up mostly of Sophomores who will be moving up to Varsity next year. Most of the time we used a man-to-man defense and once in a while a two-three zone.

The team came through in winning eight out of twenty-three games of which three were league games. We averaged 33.5 points a game.

New York Trip

During our Junior year, the class of 1955 took the first trip that a class, as a whole, from Mars High has taken in many years.

After discussing the matter for some weeks we decided to go to New York City. We wanted to see the "Big Town" and everything it had to offer.

Arrangements were made with the Harmony Shortline Bus Company for the trip to New York and plans were made for a schedule to be followed during the trip. We each paid $15 of our own and the other $10 was paid out of the treasury.

We left Mars at 8:00 P. M., Friday, June 4, 1954 on three Harmony Shortline buses. Our trip really started then. Not many of us got any more than three or four hours of sleep that night. We made several stops at Howard Johnson restaurants throughout the night we spent on the road. We arrived in New York City about 7:00 A. M. the following morning and checked in at the Hotel Belvedere. After breakfast we went down to the dock to see Charlotte Raab, our schoolmate from Germany, off for her trip across the Atlantic.

Charlotte was seen off in good style and then we saw New York. So big it is! Our tour took 6½ hours and covered everything from the Statue of Liberty to Central Park. All morning we rode around New York while a guide pointed out all the sights we had heard about for so long. We stopped at the Frick home to see the famous Frick collection of art that is almost priceless in value. At noon we visited the Statue of Liberty. We went out on the ferry—(no one got seasick.) The Statue is one of the most beautiful sights one could ever imagine standing so tall and erect and proud. Such a wonderful emblem of our country's freedom. It looks pure white until you get up close to it then you realize that it is actually a light shade of green. We landed on the island and a lot of us climbed to the very top of the statue and looked out through the holes in the statue's crown. If the ferry didn't make us seasick the stairs were enough to make us airsick. So small and windy they are!!

When we got back to Manhattan we continued our tour through Chinatown and the Bowery and the sights we hadn't seen in the morning.

That evening we saw two television shows—Perry Como's show and Chance of a Lifetime. It was quite an experience to see what goes on behind the camera on a television show.

That night was another almost sleepless night and what a night! You'll have to experience one yourself to know what I mean.

Saturday morning we saw a stage play, heard the Radio City Concert Orchestra, and saw the movie, "Executive Suite" in Radio City Music Hall. From the Music Hall we took an extensive tour through Radio City in Rockefeller Center. One of our experiences was riding to the top of the RCA Building in the world's fastest elevator. We stood at the top for a while and waited for our breath to catch up with us. Believe thee me, it is a fast trip! From the top of the building we could see both ends of the island and everything in between.

After the tour of Radio City we had lunch at the hotel and then were free for the afternoon to do what we pleased. No one actually got lost but we heard some strange reports. Some of our brave boys lost themselves in the subway! New Yorker's don't seem to feel sorry for small town people lost in subways. I understand they're still wandering around in the underworld!

We had dinner at the hotel and bid adieu to the wonderful East Side, West Side, the Bronx, and the Bowery of good old New York at 8:00 P. M. Saturday night. The poor bus drivers shuddered to see us but we weren't quite as full of zip this trip. We arrived in Mars at 6:30 A. M. Sunday morning and found our way home to spend the next week convalescing from the most wonderful experience a class could ever have.

We would like to thank all those who helped make this trip possible and who spent a great deal of their time trying to make it a worthwhile trip.

Girls' Varsity

The Girls' Varsity Club is under the guidance of Mrs. Miles.

The club is working hard in order to earn money to buy sweaters for the four seniors who are leaving.

The club wishes to express their sincere hopes for success for the future years for Mars High School students.

Boys' Varsity

The Boys' Varsity Club was organized under the direction of Mr. Girdwood.

The club presented the lettering Seniors with a varsity sweater with service stripes.

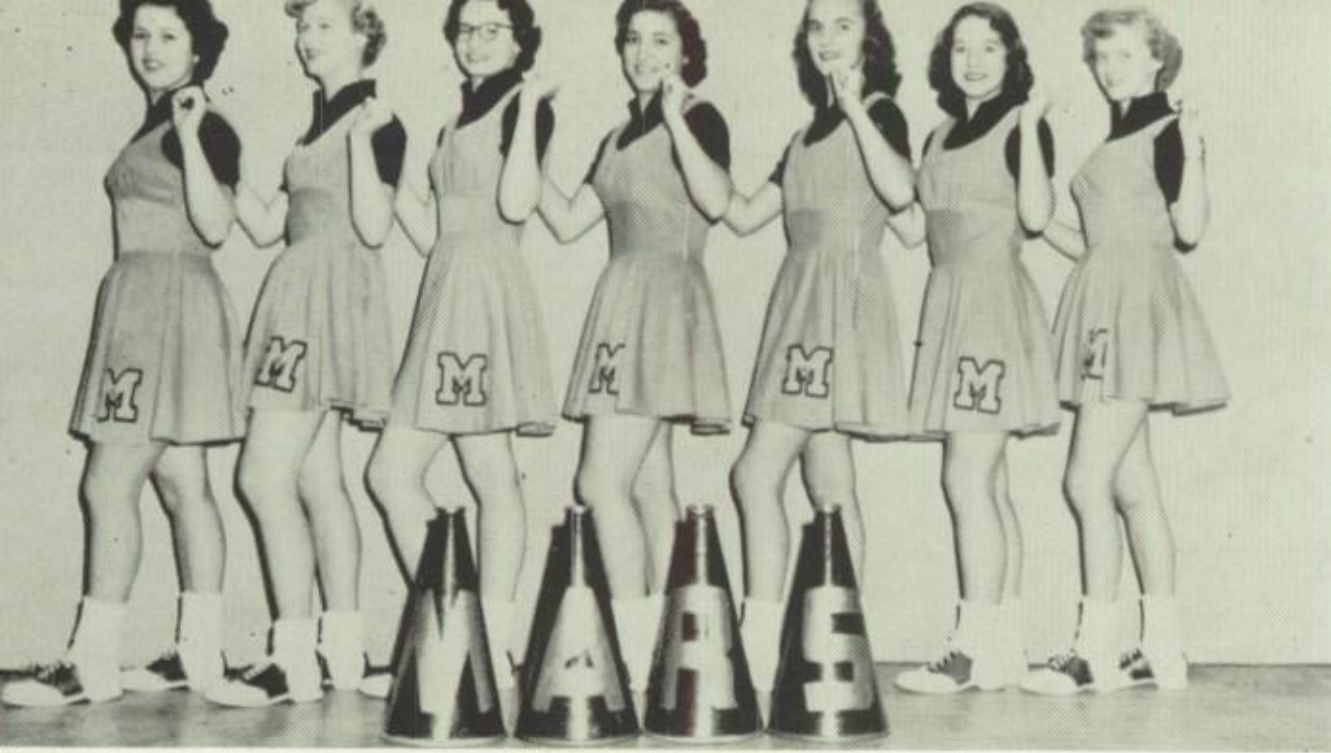

The club earned money for the sweaters by selling programs at the football games and by sponsoring a varsity faculty basketball game.

The varsity club wants to wish the coming athletic teams much success in the future.

Cheerleaders

The girls were chosen in the spring of 1954 for the 1954-55 season. This is the first year for all of them. The girls elected Gail Papera as their head cheerleader and she has done a fine job.

Since jumpers are the fad this year, the girls bought gold material and made jumpers. For football, they wore the jumpers with the traditional heavy blue sweaters over them. For basketball, they bought blue jerseys for under the jumpers.

The cheerleaders got out the old megaphones, painted them, and started using them again. Because the old cheers have been the same for so many years, the cheerleaders revised the cheers and added some new ones.

In order to raise money for two senior's sweaters, the girls made and sold booster pins for the football games, and programs for the home basketball games. They also held dances after some of the basketball games.

We sincerely thank you, the cheerleaders of Mars High, for your fine work at the games.

Senior Play

The Senior Play is composed of seventeen members of the Senior Class. The name of the play is "Father Knows Best." It was adapted from the television production of the same name. It is a story of the Anderson's and all of their family difficulties. Betty, the oldest daughter, seems to be desperately in love with Ralph. They go out to a dance and Father is going crazy all the while because he thinks they have eloped. Patty Davis is in love with Bud who can't stand her. Mother is in desperate need of a new washing machine. Naturally we can't forget Kathy who contributes to the mischief. The highlight of the play gets under way when the officer of the law has to be called to track down their lost daughter, Betty.

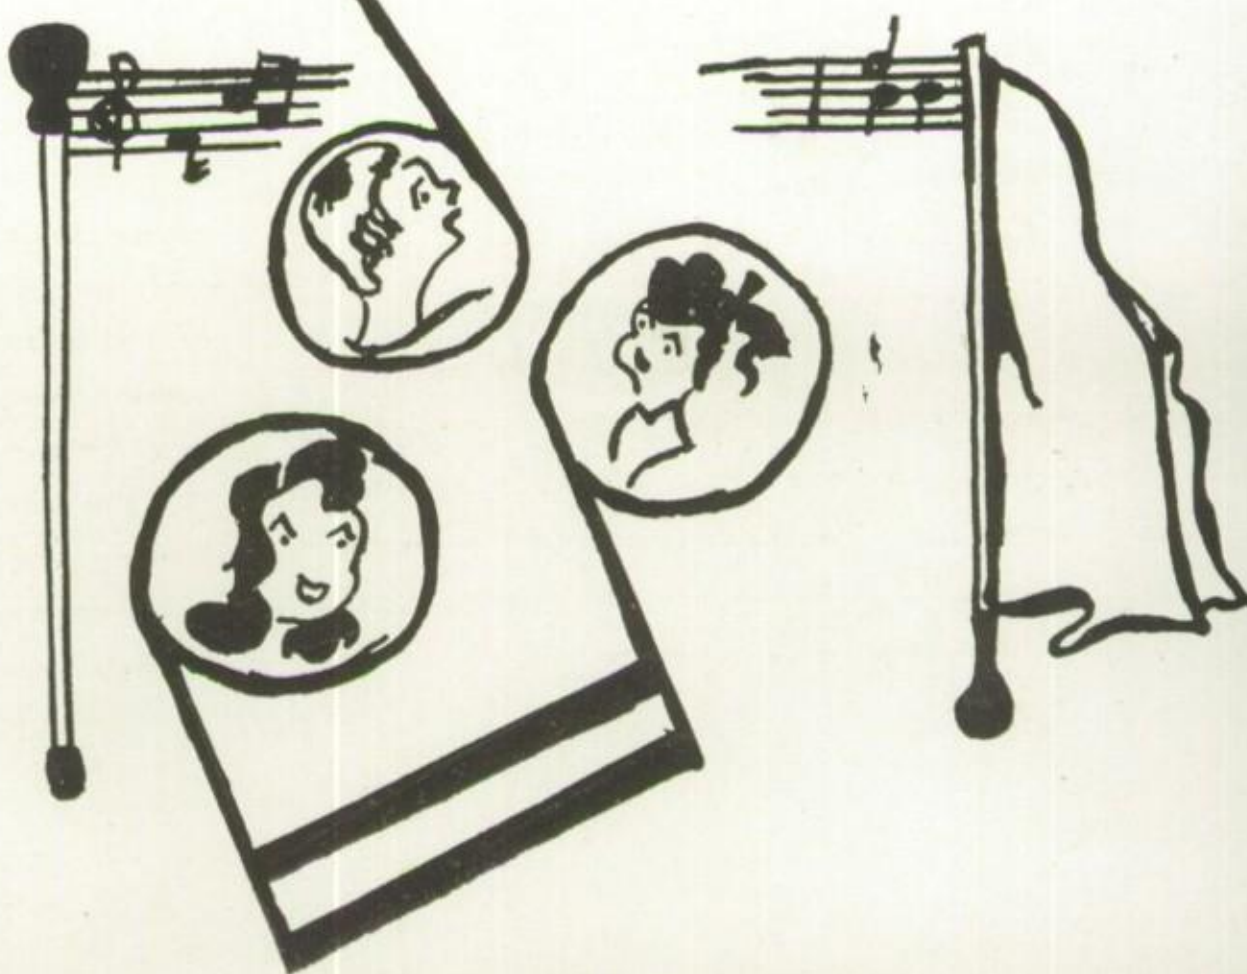

All of the members of the cast have worked very hard to make the play a success. They have been under the direction of Mrs. Lois Latshaw and under the student direction of Shirley Shick.

Prison

Music

Band

The familiar melodies of the school song, Alma Mater, and other pieces which rang through the band room every homeroom period, were made by the Mars High School Band consisting of sixty members.

Before school, in the month of August, the members spent many evenings getting ready for football season. A new idea was tried this year by combining with the chorus to form a half-time show. Included were "It's a Big Wide Wonderful World" and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic". We also marched in the Halloween Parade and in the Armistice Day Parade in Butler.

A Christmas party was held in the school auditorium, at which we found Mr. Ebner to be real gone. Could it be the coo-coo clock that did it?

After many long practices, the band exhibited their talents by presenting a concert on February 18. The performance was very entertaining and highly received by the audience. We looked forward to the Spring Concert, which was an exhibit of our contest work.

The band has been supported by the Band Mothers organization and through their help and our co-operation, you will see the band marching in brand new uniforms next year.

Flag Twirlers

Another successful year of the flag twirlers has come to a happy end. The squad of ten girls who were all seniors proudly marched on the football field with their uniforms of blue corduroy skirts and white turtle neck sweaters.

Barbara Bender, who has been a flag twirler for four years, was elected leader.

The girls worked together to have a successful year and an outstanding group.

Baton Twirlers

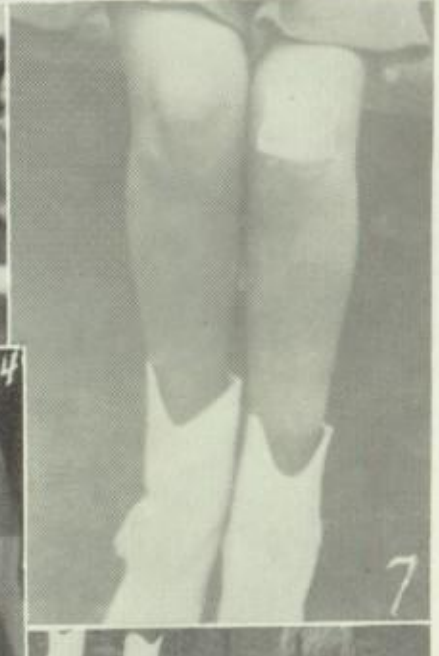

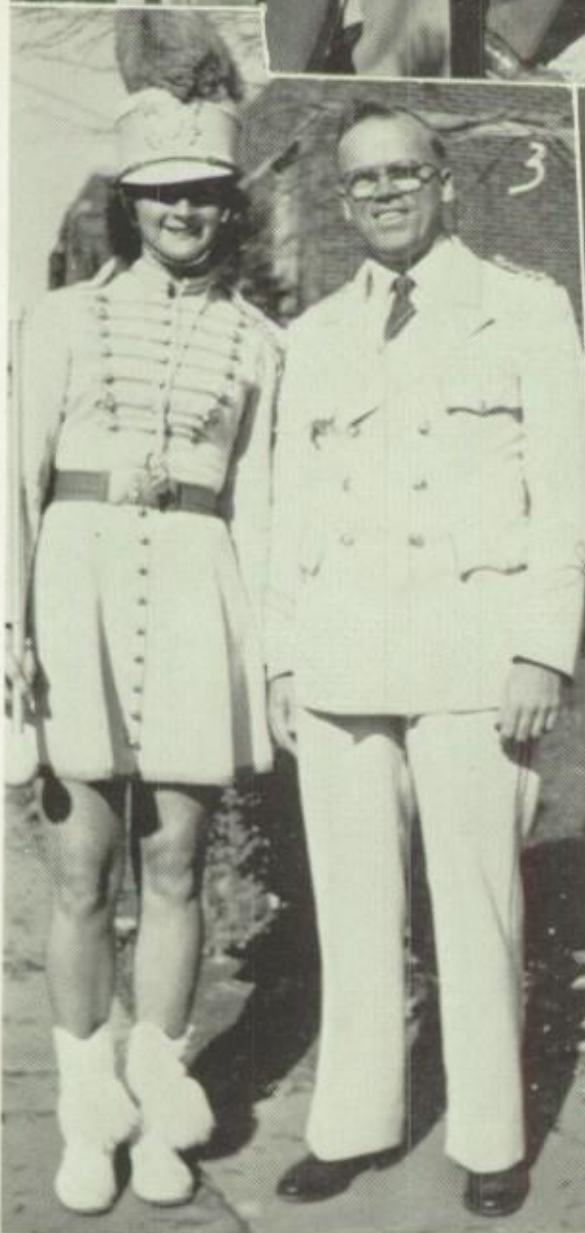

After another spectacular season of marching we are losing five capable senior girls. They are J. Inda, G. Ferguson, N. Swinderman, C. Sable, and B. Powell.

Under the supervision of Mr. Ebner the Baton Twirlers performed their outstanding twirling ability.

Georgia Ferguson, who was leader of the Baton Twirlers, along with her squad was seen wearing the colors of gold skirts and white turtle neck sweaters.

Prison Band Activities

1. Waiting; 2. Bunny Hop; 3. Some Uniforms; 4. Little Larry Joe; 5. Lefty Joe; 6. Let 'er go boys; 7. Patch work; 8. Ladies in Waiting; 9. Gunners; 10. Mutt and Jeff; 11. Line up; 12. Baby's first shoes; 13. Shorty; 14. Dancing in the Dark.

Mixed Chorus

The mixed chorus consisted of 80 members and was under the capable direction of Mr. Ebner. This was Mr. Ebner's first year at directing both band and chorus since 1951. All of us who have worked with him realize his great ability and appreciate his patience. The chorus was accompanied by Carol Cashdollar, a junior.

The chorus planned three big events to be worked on throughout the year. The first was held a week before Christmas and was entitled "The Nativity". It was a tremendous success with the auditorium packed. Practice for the Nativity began in August during vacation and continued up until the performance.

Practice for District Forensic and Music Contests kept the members busy for three months until contests took place on April 1.

The annual band and choral concert was also held in March and was a great success.

The chorus met during the first period in the afternoon. The following officers were elected. President, Barbara Wheeler; Secretary-Treasurer, Carol Riemenschneider.

This year Mr. Ebner directed the very capable Sophomore Girls' Chorus. The girls in the chorus must be Sophomores. They took part in the Christmas Choral of "The Nativity", and the annual band and chorus concert. The girls are very capable, and have worked hard to make their music very enjoyable to all who hear them. The chorus consists of 58 members.

Girls' Ensemble

The Ensemble this year consisted of seven Senior girls and five Juniors.

In the Soprano section were Sylvia Schafer, Betty Lee Zimmerman, Madelon Speer, and Arlene Baker; the second Soprano section included Carol Sable, Sally Brannon, Barbara Wheeler, and Pat Roman; with Altos, Joanne Nolan, Gail Papera, Connie Farrell, and Helaine Ball.

The girls met at noon on Wednesdays, and Thursdays with Mr. Ebner, their director.

They took part in the Christmas program, "The Nativity" in which they sang, "The Little Lamb" which they used as their selected song for District Contests. Later, when the chorus was asked to sing at St. Barnabas, they repeated the Christmas performance. The Ensemble also sang for the Mars P. T. A. and the Women's Literary Society of Mars. They always sang for May Day and this year was no exception. The girls were constantly working on good tone and blend.

Last, but of course, not least they would like to mention and extend their very sincere thanks for their director, Mr. Ebner, who was not only a fine director but a wonderful person to work under. He gave all his time and ability to make the group a success.

We want to wish the girls much success in future years.

The F. F. A. has had many activities and field trips during the year. For our field trips we went to various places. Usually we went to Harry Kushings at Parker. We sold pine trees for him. We usually go to the annual Farm Show held in Harrisburg every January. This year seven of the F. F. A. boys went to the Farm Show. We take two main field trips and visit different farms in the vicinity.

Each year the F. F. A. plants from 10,000 to 20,000 pine trees. We also take care of the Memorial Plot at the Mars Cemetery. This year we are trying a community safety program to cut down accidents on the farm.

The most important activity of the year is the annual Parent and Son banquet. This year the banquet was held in March at the Hope Grange. 100 parents and students attended this banquet. At the banquet club members made speeches on projects and activities during the year.
